The Construction Innovation and Technology Fund (CITF), with an approved allocation of HK$1 billion, was established by the Government of the Hong Kong Special Administrative Region in October 2018. The fund aims to encourage and support the local construction industry in adopting innovative construction methods and technologies, thereby promoting productivity, uplifting build quality, improving site safety and enhancing environmental performance. Since the launch of the CITF, more than 1 000 applications have been approved, involving a funding grant of over $210 million. As the implementation partner of the CITF, representatives of the Construction Industry Council will introduce its details, application methods and advanced products suitable for SMEs at the webinar. Speakers will also answer questions during the webinar.
