In view of the US-China trade conflicts, many manufacturers have relocated part of their production facilities to ASEAN countries. Notably, Indonesia possesses abundant labour supply and rich resources, making it an alternative production option for Hong Kong companies. This seminar will discuss the labour market, logistics and manufacture development in Indonesia. Enterprise representative will also be invited to share with participants the practical experience of production in Indonesia. Moreover, representatives from the Hong Kong Customs and Excise Department and the Hong Kong Productivity Council will be invited to introduce "the Free Trade Agreement Transshipment Facilitation Scheme", and the "FTA Programme" under "the Dedicated Fund on Branding, Upgrading and Domestic Sales" (BUD Fund) respectively.
