The Mainland and Hong Kong Closer Economic Partnership Arrangement (CEPA) is a free trade agreement concluded by the Mainland and Hong Kong in 2003. CEPA gives Hong Kong businesses, products and services the most preferential treatment to open up the huge Mainland market. The latest liberalisation measures for trade in services have been implemented since March 2025, making it easier for Hong Kong enterprises and professionals to set up enterprises and develop businesses in the Mainland.

Representative from the Trade and Industry Department will introduce the latest development of CEPA in this seminar.
